3 - DAMAGE OR LOSS INFORMATION

Exact Date of Occurrence: Month: OCTOBER Day: 31 Year: 2009 Time: 9:38 pm

Exact Accident Location: 8260 88th Place, Apartment 2L, Glendale, NY 11385

Detailed Description of Damage or Loss:

On or about 0700 hours on the 31st of October 2009, Claimant, New York City Police Patrolman, Adrian P. Schoolcraft, Shield No. 12943, reported for duty at the 81st Precinct, 30 Ralph Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11221. While working his assigned duty(s) as a Telephone/Switchboard Operator, the Precinct Integrity Control Officer, Lt. Timothy Caughey, began to menace Claimant with his sidearm (firearm) by displaying it in an unsafe and unsecure manner, while out of uniform. Coworkers also warned Claimant of Lt. Caughey's strange behavior, which they felt was being directed at Claimant, and expressed concern for his safety. Lt. Caughey was the subject of a New York City Police Department memorandum (49) authored by Claimant, in August '09, and sent to the Chief of Internal Affairs, Charles Campisi. The memorandum detailed Lt. Caughey's involvement in a Burglary at the 81st Precinct concerning Civilian Complaint Review Board Complaints (C.C.R.B.s), Command Discipline(s), and other Sensitive Departmental Document(s)/Record(s). Feeling his identity had been disclosed, the Internal Affairs Bureau and the Chief of the Department's Office was contacted regarding Lt. Caughey's menacing conduct. When both departments refused to respond to Claimant's concern for safety, Claimant advised the 81st Precinct Desk Sergeant that he wasn't feeling well, filled out the appropriate paperwork and left the 81st Precinct to return to his residence, at 8260 88th Place, Apartment 2L, Glendale, NY 11385.

At approximately 2138 hours of the same day (Halloween Night), multiple high ranking, sworn, active and retired member(s) of the New York City Police Department, led by Deputy Chief Michael Marino (aka: Elephant Balls/Captain Midnight) unlawfully entered Claimant's home and using excessive force pulled Claimant from his bed, tearing his clothes as they threw him to the floor and assaulted him. Claimant was violently handcuffed causing excruciating pain and injury to his wrist(s), head, neck, back, shoulder(s), arm(s), and leg(s). During the assault, New York City Police Supervisor(s) searched Claimant's home and person, seizing personal property including Digital Recording device(s), key(s) to residence, and various file(s) containing Claimant's documentation of corruption in the New York City Police Department (i.e. Report to the Police Commissioner, Raymond Kelley) and details of his collaboration with retired New York Police Detective/Lieutenant David Durk.

Claimant was then placed in a restraint apparatus and carried from his home in full view of friend(s) and neighbor(s) by multiple member(s) of the New York City Police Department. Claimant was then transported by E.M.S. to Jamaica Hospital, 8900 Van Wyck Expressway, Jamaica, NY 11418, via ambulance. Upon arrival to the Jamaica Hospital Emergency Room, Claimant was handcuffed to a gurney for more than nine hour(s) during which he was denied use of a phone, water, food, or bathroom facilities. Claimant was continually harassed, intimidated, and assaulted by various member(s) of the New York City Police Department who were also intimidating hospital staff from assisting Claimant. During that time, an evaluation of Claimant was conducted, which concluded when the Dr. exclaimed "THIS IS REDICULOUS." Soon after Dr.'s evaluation, NYPD Supervisor(s) advised hospital staff the Claimant would be going with them to the 81st Precinct. When Claimant refused to go back to the Precinct, he was admitted to psychiatric confinement, on Sunday, November 1st, 2009. Claimant was held, against his will, in a locked-down ward on the third floor of Jamaica Hospital where he was exposed to disease and violence on a daily basis until his release on Thursday, November 5th, 2009, with no explanation and a bill for $7,185.

After Claimants release from the Jamaica Hospital Psychiatric Ward, Claimant no longer felt safe in his own home and relocated upstate to recuperate with his immediate family. Since his release, the New York City Police Department has, on more than a dozen occasion(s), dispatched team(s) of detective(s) and or other agent(s) of the New York City Police Department to harass and intimidate Claimant by pounding on his door shouting "NYPD, WE KNOW YOUR IN THERE, OPEN UP" and honking car horn(s) during all hour(s) of the day and night, including weekend(s). The New York City Police Department has also solicited the help of the Johnstown New York Police Department to serve as its proxy in their ongoing harassment of Claimant.

The New York City Police Department and the New York City Fire Department failed to provide oversight for its member(s) and or agent(s) and had a special duty to provide for and protect Claimant's safety and well-being as well as his personal property and Civil Right(s) and to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with all New York State and Federal Law(s) as well as New York City Police Department and Civil Service Regulation(s).

As the result of the aforementioned, the Claimant, Adrian P. Schoolcraft, sustained serious physical, mental, and emotional injury(s) in addition to the following damage(s):

1. Aggravated Assault.
2. False Arrest.
3. Unlawful Incarceration.

Feeling his identity had been disclosed, the Internal Affairs Bureau and the Chief of the Department's Office was contacted regarding Lt. Caughey's menacing conduct. When both departments refused to respond to Claimant's concern for safety, Claimant advised the 81st Precinct Desk Sergeant that he wasn't feeling well, filled out the appropriate paperwork and left the 81st Precinct to return to his residence, at 8260 88th Place, Apartment 2L, Glendale, NY 11385.

At approximately 2138 hours of the same day (Halloween Night), multiple high ranking, sworn, active and retired member(s) of the New York City Police Department, led by Deputy Chief Michael Marino (aka: Elephant Balls/Captain Midnight) unlawfully entered Claimant's home and using excessive force pulled Claimant from his bed, tearing his clothes as they threw him to the floor and assaulted him. Claimant was violently handcuffed causing excruciating pain and injury to his wrist(s), head, neck, back, shoulder(s), arm(s), and leg(s). During the assault, New York City Police Supervisor(s) searched Claimant's home and person, seizing personal property including Digital Recording device(s), key(s) to residence, and various file(s) containing Claimant's documentation of corruption in the New York City Police Department (i.e. Report to the Police Commissioner, Raymond Kelley) and details of his collaboration with retired New York Police Detective/Lieutenant David Durk.

Claimant was then placed in a restraint apparatus and carried from his home in full view of friend(s) and neighbor(s) by multiple member(s) of the New York City

Police Department. Claimant was then transported by E.M.S. to Jamaica Hospital, 8900 Van Wyck Expressway, Jamaica, NY 11418, via ambulance. Upon arrival to the Jamaica Hospital Emergency Room, Claimant was handcuffed to a gurney for more than nine hour(s) during which he was denied use of a phone, water, food, or bathroom facilities. Claimant was continually harassed, intimidated, and assaulted by various member(s) of the New York City Police Department who were also intimidating hospital staff from assisting Claimant. During that time, an evaluation of Claimant was conducted, which concluded when the Dr. exclaimed "THIS IS REDICULOUS." Soon after Dr.'s evaluation, NYPD Supervisor(s) advised hospital staff the Claimant would be going with them to the 81st Precinct. When Claimant refused to go back to the Precinct, he was admitted to psychiatric confinement, on Sunday, November 1st, 2009. Claimant was held, against his will, in a locked-down ward on the third floor of Jamaica Hospital where he was exposed to disease and violence on a daily basis until his release on Thursday, November 5th, 2009, with no explanation and a bill for $7,185.

After Claimants release from the Jamaica Hospital Psychiatric Ward, Claimant no longer felt safe in his own home and relocated upstate to recuperate with his immediate family. Since his release, the New York City Police Department has, on more than a dozen occasion(s), dispatched team(s) of detective(s) and or other agent(s) of the New York City Police Department to harass and intimidate Claimant by pounding on his door shouting "NYPD, WE KNOW YOUR IN THERE, OPEN UP" and honking car horn(s) during all hour(s) of the day and night, including weekend(s). The New York City Police Department has also solicited the help of the Johnstown New York Police Department to serve as its proxy in their ongoing harassment of Claimant.

The New York City Police Department and the New York City Fire Department failed to provide oversight for its member(s) and or agent(s) and had a special duty to provide for and protect Claimant's safety and well-being as well as his personal property and Civil Right(s) and to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with all New York State and Federal Law(s) as well as New York City Police Department and Civil Service Regulation(s).
